"With due respect, I hereby would like to take the opportunity to explain my position in respect of your letter no. # BSEC/Enforcement/3346/2022/1397 dated October 26, 2022 regarding SONALIPAPR.

I am always trying to find out the undervalued shares and purchased the same for the capital gain. For the shares of Sonalipaper, I tried to induced myself due to its under-value nature and purchased the same for capital gain.

A. The investigation period was considered as 30.09.2021 to 28.10.2021. During the period, total traded percentage was 34.44% as per report from our related codes. All parties that mentioned here are individual or companies has separate tax files and different entity structure and also executed their trade with their own choice and decision. Significant share trading in the market by any means was not the reason for any manipulation or induce other to buy this share rather it is honest investment considering its future prospect so that I can get more shares. My objective was to buy more shares from the market and hold it for future gain. No one was in loosing side from this share.

We engaged huge fund to buy this share considering its future prospects that are enumerated below:

- 1. Sponsor Holdings: 67.51% and public holdings 23.31% and institute holdings: 9.08%*
- 2. NAV per shares: June 2019: 332.71, June 2020: 307.88, June 2021: 284.33 and June 2022: 241.30*
- 3. EPS: June 2019: 4.19, June 2020: 1.61, June 2021: 4.89 and June 2022: 6.03 and Q12022: 7.02 (annualized: 28.08)*
- 4. The Company has total land value as around 517 crore that is much significant*
- 5. The company issued right shares one Right for Two shares at Tk.10 par value.*

That's the reason we have engaged our huge fund to invest in this share. It has no manipulative objectives rather it was honest and unbiased analysis of future prospects of the company. Thus, engaging huge fund is not inducing price upward or manipulation rather taken risk considering its future prospect. Our objective was to gain from the market not loss from the market and I think it is not offence to gain from the market. If BSEC considers it is offence to gain from the market then asked us to refrain from the market, we will do that. If we engage this huge fund in other business, we can get gain also. We are doing share business for gain not for loss. Gain-loss calculation should not be the objective of any investigation or report rather legal violation should be considered only.

B. As I said above, all are separate individual and entity and they are not dependent on each other and also have separate tax files. They are individually decision maker for their own trade. Thus, it is not violation of any laws and directives of BSEC.

C. The above point B. is applicable for this also.

Further, considering my involvement and engagement of fund in this particular scrip is much significant thus all rational person can expect modest gain from the same also. This share has huge prospect that are explained above. I didn't violate any laws and rules of BSEC and always try to comply all directives very honestly and strictly.

I am active trader in capital market thus it is my nature to execute trade actively in all cases that you can find in every cases. My view, there is no offence in active trading rather it helps the market to give sufficient liquidity in the market and increase the market volume that attract more investors in the market ultimately helps the market for its development and helps to develop our economy.

I need views from BSEC regarding this, if the active trading is punishable offence then I will refrain myself from the market. Also need guidelines from BSEC whether earnings from share trading is punishable offence.

However, for any honest mistakes and intentional error happened during share trading, I am extremely sorry and seeking apology for that. I believe under the current leadership of BSEC, capital market will be more vibrant and it moves to new height in coming days."
