“In the point 1 of your letter where you have mentioned about deficit in three different months starting from June 30, 2011 till February 29, 2012, please note, we have used entire amount of money as Client Margin and not any other purpose.

In the point 2 of your letter where we were accused of showing lower than actual amount in payable to client that resulted higher Net Capital Balance, please note, we have had some considerable problem dealing with our older version of back office software. That software failed to show correct amount of Net Capital Balance due to some faulty ledger that carried on from previously. Reason for that carried on is non co-operation from software vendor which we later on changed. On February 13, 2013 we have informed in writing to CSE enquiry committee regarding our problem with our older version of Back Office Software.

It is worth to mention here that, we do not have any non ‘or’ delayed payment of client cheque and return of any such till date by any bank. We did not do that with any bad intention or whatever rather there lacks management inefficiency which we are now overcoming.”
