Press Release

Subject: Online IPO Application System - Pilot Testing & Training Session.

The Bangladesh Securities and Exchange Commission (BSEC) successfully conducted a pilot testing and training session on 17 July 2025 for the newly developed Online IPO Application System. This initiative represents a major stride towards the digital transformation of Bangladesh's capital market, aiming to improve efficiency, enhance transparency, and simplify the IPO application process for all stakeholders.

The event commenced with an introductory address by Mr. Gour Chand Sarker, Deputy Director, BSEC. He reflected on the journey towards the development of the online IPO application system and emphasized the Commission's strategic vision of digitizing market operations to foster a more robust and investor-friendly environment.

Following the opening remarks, Mr. Mohammed Kamruzzaman Niton, Chief Technical Advisor (CTA) of Tappware Solutions Limited—the software development firm behind the system—delivered a comprehensive presentation on the entire process and features of the new application platform.

The session brought together key stakeholders including 02 representatives from Dhaka Stock Exchange (DSE), 02 representatives from Chittagong Stock Exchange (CSE), 106 representatives from 60 Merchant Banks, and 05 officials from BSEC's Capital Issue Department and 04 officials from Management Information Systems (MIS) Department totaling 119 participants.

After the formal sessions, participants engaged in a networking lunch, providing an opportunity for informal discussion and exchange of ideas.

In the post-lunch session, a hands-on training was conducted by Mr. Kamruzzaman Niton and his technical team, allowing participants to interact directly with the system and gain practical experience in real-time application processes.

A dynamic question-and-answer segment followed, jointly moderated by Mr. Rajib Ahmed, Director, and Mr. Md. Iqbal Hossain, Additional Director, BSEC. Participants posed insightful questions, which were addressed effectively, further reinforcing trust and enthusiasm for the system's implementation.

The entire event was efficiently organized and managed by Mr. Niloy Karmaker, Assistant Director, BSEC, whose coordination ensured the program's smooth execution and success.

The BSEC extends its sincere appreciation to all participants and contributors for their active engagement and valuable input. The Commission remains committed to embracing digital innovation and building a more streamlined, secure, and investor-centric capital market ecosystem.
